CHAMBERLAIN IN SOUTH AFRICA

The visit of Hon. Mr. Chamberlain to South Africa is an event in the history of the empire almost as important as the war that preceded it, or will be if it leads the British government and people to a proper appreciation of the conditions existing there. From start to finish the British government has dealt with the enemies of the empire in South Africa as though they were dissatisfied friends instead of being enemies most pronounced. It has been the shame of Britain that it has gone further in attempting to buy up hostility and treachery, than it has in rewarding sacrifices and loyalty. It is the belief of many throughout the empire that Mr. Chamberlain had no mistaken views on this matter. But the government of which he was a member had pursued that policy to such an extent that the strain between the empire and its friends in South Africa had almost reached the breaking point. Loyal men who had sacrificed their all for the empire were set to one side, their counsel disregarded and their losses belittled, while their and the empire's opponents were pampered and petted, their advice deferred to and their views more than repaid. Had the policy of the government resulted, as it logically began, in smothering away the hostility of the great body of the Boers, it might have afforded to ignore or even sacrifice its friends, but Mr. Chamberlain since his arrival in South Africa has run against so many snags rooted in a deep hatred of the British by the hostile Boers that the most cowardly and contemptible government on earth should be round about almost such avowed hostility and black treachery.

Mr. Chamberlain met some of the Boer leaders, including General De Wet and Commandant Hertzog. These hitherto supposedly loyal subjects made such demands as might be expected had the Boers and not the British been victorious, backing the demands up with threats of aggression and even of rebellion. Their attitude was so insulting that Mr. Chamberlain was compelled to dismiss them in main, because of his dignity. The point chiefly at issue appeared to be the attitude which the government was expected to assume towards South African localities in general and particularly towards the Boers. These were to be boycotted by the government and left for punishment as for traitors. It is to Mr. Chamberlain's credit that he met such a demand in the only way in which it could be met and retained a measure of self respect. With a lesson of this kind before the government and before the British people, it is to be hoped that from this time forward there will be no question of ignoring loyalty or sacrificing loyal interests to please the late hostiles. If a new policy is adopted, as it is to be hoped it will be, of the empire standing by those in South Africa who stood by the empire, it will be begun not a moment too soon.

If there is one thing that is claimed by Britain to be more British than another, it is loyalty to friends. The British government, for a moment allowed the idea to prevail amongst its enemies—and even amongst its friends—that this had ceased to be a part of the policy of the empire, and so its shame and disgrace. Disgrace which can only be wiped out by the recovery of power which is due not later than Mr. Chamberlain's return to England.

A few nights ago, Mr. C. Caruthers was busy doing his chores when several rigs drove up and a crowd arrived to spend the evening. Mr. Caruthers was indeed very much surprised.

Mr. Elard some time ago sold his half section. He looked around for some time in search of another and even travelled as far as H. C. But at last he has bought the N. E. 1-4 sec. 73, Tp. 55, Range 24, about a half mile from the Rensselaire school.

The Excelsior Library society has stopped for the winter.

PASTORAL HILL

The carnival held by the baseball boys on Friday evening last, was a decided success financially and otherwise. A beautiful sheet of ice had been prepared and well illuminated, comfortable seats provided, a large tent with a stove in it erected, lunch served and in fact everything done, that the boys could do, to make visitors comfortable.

Strathcona, the Fort Josephburg and Good Hope were all represented while the "M.P. Leaf Club" turned out an immense coming in a four horse bus.

Several appeared in costumes; the ladies only receiving prizes, which were awarded as follows:

Best costume, Miss Stuckey, "Milkmaid."

Miss Pearce, "Bride."

Miss Pearce, full actress; (1) Miss Davis; (2) Miss McLennan.

Mr. R. Turnbull, of Strathcona, acted as judge.

Mr. S. Pearce leaves this week on a trip to England.

Miss Etta L. P. of Edmonton, is visiting friends here.

Mr. Kelly, agent for the Bell organ company, Canada, placed in the home of Mr. John Wallis, this week a beautiful piano case organ.

Miss Louise Pearce entertained the teacher and members of her Sunday school class in tea on Tuesday, Feb. 12th. The occasion being her birthday.

A traveling photographer happening along took a "snap" at the class, thus enabling them to obtain an interesting memento of the occasion.

B.X.S. CIAL AT THE STURGEON

On Thursday evening, Feb. 12th, it was very cold but with quite a crowd gathered in the new Presbyterian church. A good program of recitations, dialogues and music was rendered. A special feature was a dialogue in which "Patience" was one of the principal characters. Another special feature was the auction supper. The ladies had prepared prettily decorated boxes containing supper for two. There were sold by auctioneer McLaughlin to the highest bidder. This realized over $75 for the organ fund. Rev. Alex. Forbes occupied the chair. He took the liberty of calling on Rev. McLeod, for a G.C.C. song, which was much appreciated by the audience though not understood by all.

THE RENOWNED WESTMINSTER ABBEY CHOIR
Glee and Concert Party.

The Coronation Choir Glee and Concert party composed of a number of leading singers and ten sopranos who took part in the Coronation of their Majesty King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra on August 9th will be heard here in a delightful concert programme.

In addition to glee, matrigals and part songs this body of singers is unequalled anywhere for beautiful blending, artistic and musical singing. The male alto voices and the boy sopranos supply the places of the female voices with wonderful sweetness, similarity and effect. Mr. Branscombe, the director of the party and a lay vicar of Westminster Abbey in London, is an acknowledged authority on glee and part singing. He is a composer of note. Mr. Herbert Hulton, a baritone, is one of the foremost singers of the present day and a fast arriving at the top of the scale. Mr. Percy Coward, male alto solo is a surprising and pleasing novelty; he is the finest exponent of this special voice in England. Madame Marie Hooton, the eminent London contralto, is a beautiful woman and a delightful artist while the boys have the voices of angels.

Speaking of the Coronation Glee and Concert party's last appearance in Montreal the "Star" says:

"They gave a delightful programme of English glee sacred music and songs. The smoothness and beauty of their part singing was most pleasing and the most difficult matrigals were given with ease and a facility that was charming to the ear. On this occasion they favoured the audience with a couple of interludes and an anthem sung in Westminster Abbey at the Coronation. The anthem which was Gounod's 'Send out Thy Light' was rendered in a manner quite different from that to which Canadians are accustomed. It was beautiful."

Subscribe for your seats at once as there is only a limited number. Those subscribing now will be entitled to two extra days for selecting seats previous to being opened to public. Seats on sale at Ms. Kerzie's bookstore after Feb. 1.

fully shaded and exquisitely sung. The soloists were good especially Messrs. Leonard, Hulton and Coward. Master Forey sang a dainty little song by Cowen, and Madame Marie Hooton rendered a number of Scotch ballads. Mr. Dudley Causton contributed a humorous musical sketch that caught the house.

The beautiful music of the English Cathedral rendered with a delightful delicacy and sweetness of expression will be illustrated by the Coronation Choir party here in their forthcoming concert at the Edmonton Opera House on Wednesday, Feb. 18th, 1930. The delightful boy sopranos, the remarkable male alto, the fine tenors and baritone give a perfect vocal blending. The male alto soloists, for example Mr. Percy Coward, is the very finest exponent of this voice in England. He has the pure rich contralto notes of a Clara Butt. Mr. Edward Branscombe is an acknowledged authority on part singing in London and is a composer of note. Mr. Herbert Hulton is a remarkable church singer and also conductor of an important choral society. Madame Marie Hooton, the lady vocalist, has a most rich and delightful contralto. Although the Choir party is of a most exceptional character and its equal in music will not be heard again in Canada in many long years.

They are the chorists of the Coronation Choir from far-famed Westminster Abbey and they all took part in the Coronation of their Majesty, King Edward and Queen Alexandra. The boys are particularly delightful little chaps in their Eton jackets and Westminster school caps. They are said to have the voices of angels and their looks do not belie it. Mr. Edward Branscombe senior lay vicar of Westminster Abbey is director of the Choir Party which is composed as follows—

Concert Contralto — Madame Marie Hooton.

Soprano Boys — Masters Leonard Hubbard, Reginald Hyde, Horace Marchant and Alf Bonchard.

Male Alto — Mr. Percy Coward and Mr. Walter Coward.

Tenors — Mr. Edward Branscombe and Mr. George Pownall.

Bass — Mr. Herbert Hulton and Mr. Albert Archdeacon.

Entertainer — Mr. Dudley Causton.

The greatest musical event that happened in the annals of the town will be the appearance of the Coronation Choir Party.

This is a party of famous English singers and boy sopranos who took part in the coronation of their Majesty King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra on August 9th, last, in Westminster Abbey, and has been selected by Mr. Branscombe, lay vicar of Westminster Abbey, who is one of the acknowledged authorities on glee singing in England. They are assisted by Madame Marie Hooton the famous English contralto of charming voice and presence, and Mr. Dudley Causton the well known English entertainer who presents a very humorous sketch entitled "The Village Concert." The clear soprano voices are very delightful to hear, while a very interesting feature in addition to the regular numbers will be a male alto solo by Mr. Percy Coward. The male alto voice is peculiar to the English Cathedral where no women are allowed to sing and the women's voices are replaced by male alto and boy sopranos.

It has been rendered possible for the choir to be here by the fact that they are moving to the Pacific Coast on their way to Australia and they are enabled to stop over en route.
